Breakfast in the Classroom

Did you know that children who eat breakfast at the start of the school day not only focus and behave better, but they also have higher math and reading scores? Join us for a day of learning how to maximize the positive effects of breakfast by implementing it in the classroom, how others have created successful programs, best practices, and how to build a program that fits your school.

ADE Health and Nutrition Services Conference- NSLP Pre-Conference

Have you ever wanted to jazz up your school breakfast menu with new items that are fun, fresh, delicious and nutritious? Join us for a day of hands-on learning with 2 of Arizona's most dynamic chefs, where we will focus on whole grain rich foods, vegetables, and using USDA Foods items in your daily school breakfast preparations. You will also learn and review cooking principles and techniques in addition to having a chance to practice preparing food items in a few cooking challenges!

ADE Health and Nutrition Services Conference

Introducing the 2014 Health and Nutrition Conference, formerly known as the Coordinated School Health Conference. The Health and Nutrition Conference was developed through a collaborative division effort encompassing the six division areas: The Child and Adult Care Food Program and Summer Food Service Program, School Health Programs, Marketing and Outreach, Finance and Operations, School Nutrition Programs and School Foods Program. By collaborating within the division, we are able to coordinate new or existing resources more efficiently and effectively to better meet the health needs of Arizona children and their families. As a division, we are building an internal infrastructure that links health and education. Through a coordinated approach, the impact of our total efforts will be greater than those individually.
